Brief

Scenario

You have been tasked with making a text based adventure game. This game can be themed however you like but must have multiple paths that the user can take. Before we even start coding we need to plan out what is going to happen.

> Make a Trello board and list all the tasks that need to be done - these must have enough detail so that anyone can pick up a task
> Decide on the theme and storyline of the game - make sure to detail this in your Trello board
> Make a flow chart using https://www.draw.io that will show in detail the story - this can be on one or multiple flow charts
> Set up a slack channel that you are all on where you can share ideas - invite your instructor to the channel
